by their horses, dogs, and the beauty of Star Hill Farm.

In 1965 a group of concerned Waukesha County residents, the Schallocks among them, realized there was a need for a county-wide humane society and shelter for homeless and stray animals. In July of that year, the Humane Animal Welfare ike & Jane Schallock met as engineering students at the University of Wisconsin. They built a wonderful life together surrounded Society of Waukesha County was created. Fundraising and planning by this dedicated group led to HAWS' first facility, which opened in Waukesha in 1969.

Through the years, HAWS' mission has grown to encompass not only animal rescue but also training and education programs, illustrating our founders' dedication to growing a compassionate, humane community.

We are thrilled to introduce you to our next chapter, the HAWS Schallock Center for Animals!

In this newsletter, we highlight the impact the HAWS Schallock Center for Animals will have on our future. Programs there focus on pet training, youth education, and respite and sanctuary for shelter pets. Our popular kids' camps will expand operations, and educational encounters will give even more youth the chance to discover compassion for animals. The Schallock Center will act as a one-of-a-kind pet training facility, as well as a place for pets to receive care and live away from the traditional shelter setting.

We look forward to realizing all of the possibilities of the HAWS Schallock Center for Animals, and we are excited to welcome our community to this amazing new chapter in HAWS history!

Our Most Important Partners: YOU

By Maggie Tate-Techtmann, Director of Organizational Development

t is going to be a fun spring and summer at HAWS!

Mike and Jane Schallock envisioned their land to be dedicated to the education of future generations in humane values and sentiments. The couple entrusted HAWS with their breathtaking 77-acre farm in Delafield, now called the HAWS Schallock Center for Animals.

Each year HAWS offers support and sanctuary to more than 8,000 pets and engages more than 11,000 future leaders through humane, character-driven programming. Expanding on our existing efforts to offer high-caliber training programs and enrichment activities, and to offer year-round STEAM opportunities to schools and expanded summer camp programming, the Schallock Center encourages discovery in nature and fosters compassion for animals.

Pet training programs, youth education, respite and sanctuary for pets and people are held in our innovative, natural setting with programming rooted in educating the public in humane values and the training and enrichment of animals' lives. Our educational opportunities welcome students of all levels, individuals, families and community groups.

As we embark on this incredible opportunity to expand programming and impact more youth, pets and their people in our community, we're excited to partner in this expansion with you – our committed, mission-driven community! Leave your mark and make a lasting impact: Volunteer as a team, as a family or as an individual, or make a gift to impact HAWS' programs. With opportunities at every level, we invite you to join us in honoring Mike and Jane's vision. Visit hawspets.org/schallockcenter for more information, and thank you for your support!

HAWS is dedicated to strengthening the relationship between animals and humans through adoptions and education – making a more compassionate community possible. Join us at the HAWS Schallock Center for Animals, where we teach, train and live humane.

Hannah was a very special HAWS alumni dog, and her impact on all of us was lasting! As a beloved member of the Van Beek family, she brought joy to everyone she met.

Compelled to honor her, the family has directed a donation to create Hannah's Haven at the Schallock Center, a place for youth and community members to learn about Hannah's story and all she taught, and a center for kids to read to dogs. Hannah's Haven will be a place full of love – just like Hannah!

If you are receiving duplicate copies of the Tattle Tails, or need to update your contact information, please let us know at office@hawspets.org. Please use "SEEING DOUBLE" in the subject line. Thank you!

HUMANE EDUCATION HIGHLIGHTS

Growth and New Possibilities

By Khris Erickson, Education Department Manager

ven with two large meeting rooms and an entire shelter, the in-house programs offered by our Education Department are full to capacity! Camp sessions fill each year, clubs continue to be extremely popular, and most weekends see us hosting several birthday parties for kids.

The new HAWS Shallock Center for Animals in Delafield is exciting because it opens up all kinds of possibilities for our department to expand...and even create new programs!

Our first big program to debut at the Center will be an expanded Kids 'N Critters Summer Camp. We are excited to be able to offer summer camp sessions this year both at our main shelter facility in Waukesha and at the Schallock Center. Plus, the Delafield property will present some new opportunities and activities for campers.

Seventy-seven acres of property means that campers walking dogs will have a variety of trails to experience, and be able to observe the difference in the dog's behavior in varying environments. Instead of doing the same route each day, our campers and dogs will have new places to explore.

The property lends itself to many of our activities and games being played outside, giving campers ample space to spread out. Pet Care Relay and Pet Supply Scavenger Hunt will cover more area and be given a fresh twist!

The natural setting of the Schallock Center means we can expand our offerings of environmental activities. Safe access to a pond, a field and wooded areas allows us to talk about different types of habitats and the animals living there, while actually exploring those areas and observing either the animals or signs of the animals on site. Campers will learn about a variety of native Wisconsin species such as deer, coyotes, raccoons, leopard frogs and red-tailed hawks.

We plan for the Shallock Center to become a desirable destination for field trips by schools throughout southeastern Wisconsin. With the amount of indoor and outdoor space at the Center, we will be able to host large numbers of students and offer curriculum from Wisconsin's Department of Instruction. Students will be able to participate in amazing handson learning sessions.

I am sure we will come up with even more innovative programs as we spend more time at the Shallock Center!This wonderful gift gives HAWS so many opportunities to engage with and educate our community, and we are excited for the endless possibilities! 🚜

It's Spay/Neuter Season!

By Cassie Gugin, HAWS SNIP Manager

onger days and warmer temperatures are right around the corner. We will once again see flowers blooming, birds singing...and kittens multiplying! Every spring, HAWS' SNIP clinic receives many calls from people who find litters of kittens on their Learn about all of property or who are in need of assistance with cats roaming the area.

HAWS is here to help!

Through Project Guardian, HAWS offers no-charge spay/neuter surgery, rabies vaccination and an identifying ear notch for any outdoor cat in Waukesha County, Our services are also available to those living outside of Waukesha County, at a discounted rate. We offer additional services such as microchipping and FeLeuk/FIV testing, for a nominal fee. We offer flexibility in scheduling throughout the week, with appointments available Monday through Friday. And, to meet our community's needs, we have recently increased the number of available outdoor cat spay/neuter appointments.

Got cats with nowhere to go? We have that covered, too! Through the generosity of area Boy and Girl Scout Troops, we often have free insulated cat houses available to those who need them. For properties with elusive felines, you can rent a humane trap from HAWS.

Interested in learning more? Give our SNIP clinic a call at 262-542-8851, x109, or log on to hawspets.org to learn how HAWS' Spay-Neuter Initiative Program can help you help cats in our community.

RESCUE TAILS...

Spring is here!

This time of year becomes increasingly busy with phone calls related to wildlife concerns. HAWS assists by picking up injured wildlife and transferring them to local, licensed rehabilitators.

Many of these calls are for baby/infant wildlife. It is important that, before we get involved, we verify the animal is indeed orphaned. Our most common calls are about fawns; often they will spend the entire day alone, in one spot, until mom returns at sunset. Baby birds do not know how to fly right away; as they develop that skill you will often find them on the ground. But, if you hear chaotic noises or a flurry of movement above, it is most likely the parent watching their offspring.

A wild animal's best chance of survival is to be raised by its parents in the wild, with minimal human contact unless absolutely necessary. Information is available from Wildlife in Need and the Wisconsin DNR, outlining if you should get involved and how to do that safely. If you are unsure of the best route to take, please don't hesitate to call HAWS! Animal Rescue Team at 262-542-8851 for assistance with ANY animals in need!

■ Cat's in the...ceiling?

A crafty HAWS' foster cat found its way into the ceiling of its temporary home. While we knew generally where the cat was located, it was not willing to come out! With the help of video cameras and a thermal imaging device, HAWS staff and volunteers were able to pinpoint the cat's exact location and finally retrieve it after several days.

Thank you to Duct Works Environmental for their camera and expertise, HAWS' volunteer Chris Fabisiak for his handy work over two days during a snow storm, and foster caregiver Carolyn Atwell for allowing us "extended" access to her house!

Claud Kling

Activity Coordinator; Degrees in Psychology, Justice and Public Policy, and Pre-Law.

What do you do at HAWS all day?

I manage and execute the Big Little Pet Pantry, do community outreach, and schedule and carry out new volunteer orientations.

What makes you good at your job? I have always had a huge heart for animals in need and community outreach. This job combines both of those things perfectly. Running the Big Little Pet Pantry has allowed me to focus on community outreach as a way to support both animals and their humans while we are all adjusting to some of the struggles that the pandemic has brought into our lives.

What did you want to be when you grew up? An FBI profiler.

Who are your pets? Chuck P and Ham on Rye, my two gigantic rescue cats.

Your hobbies/interests outside of work: Community involvement, social justice, reading, writing, and cooking!!

Why do you work at HAWS? Aside from constantly having fuzz therapy a mere 20 feet from my desk? I enjoy working for an organization with core values that reflect my own. It really is fulfilling to be able to say that I work somewhere where I'm contributing to making a difference in the lives of animals and humans in the community.

NORA

When we met Nora, our hearts melted. We knew instantly we were her forever family. Since having her home, she has been sleeping peacefully in her crate a night, working hard on going to the bathroom outside, eating like a champ, and has realized snow can be fun to play in. She is learning to trust us more each day and becoming more attached, loves a good cuddle on the couch and spends her days playing hard with all her toys. We are so happy she is part of our family and continue to fall more in love with her each day. Thank you, Katie G. and HAWS! — Nadia, Tom & Ethan H.

HARRY STYLES

About 2 years ago, a green spotted puffer was surrendered to HAWS because he needed a place all to himself. "Harry Styles" the pufferfish now happily lives in his own private bachelor pad! His cutest attribute is that he will spit water at you at feeding time, because he is so excited for his supper! — Brittany B.

OR DEPARTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

g and Trainer's Dream Come True

Boucha, Behavior Department Manager

e this: A dog that is struggling in a shelter onment, due to not having enough exercise I stimulation, gets a regular outlet to run to s content in a 10+ acre pasture, off-leash. ening.)

is: A day training program where your dog ade in a pond to cool off, after a thorough sh walking session, filled with all sorts of nells as distractions. (It's happening.)

is: Side-by-side training classes taking place rge barn arena, with happy dogs and owners ogether against a gorgeous farm backdrop! PENING!)

we mention...shhhh...agility training class ties?!)

of the new HAWS Schallock Center for all the above is either already happening ly in the works, and we could not be more bring these opportunities to our community! ears, HAWS' programming has boomed. But nstantly battling the desire to be innovative and expansive in what we can offer, with the physical limitations of space to hold said programming. Now, with both HAWS main facility in Waukesha and the Schallock Center in Delafield, we are looking at a time when consultations, day training, training classes, and shelter Mod Squad dog work/ field trips can all take place in both locations.

These opportunities will allow us to practice what we preach: Respite. Off-leash decompression. Social opportunities for play. Training with real-life distractions. Socialization opportunities. We have been given a gift that is unlike any other a shelter could imagine. And for the Behavior Department, most (if not all) of our programs will benefit tremendously from the opportunity to bring our clients to such a unique and private space, where we can control many variables to set up each dog for success.

For what it's worth, most dogs do not wish to leave once they get a chance to work and play at the Schallock Center...we cannot wait to show you what we've been working on! 🚜

SPOOKY

Spooky has brought life back into our lives after we lost our other cat, Midnight (adopted from HAWS in '03). Spooky is such a goofy cat, she makes us laugh so hard at times that we are crying. She loves her toys, her tunnel and her cat tree that is tall enough that she can sit and look out the Find a new window. Thank you for giving us family member! Log on to hawspets.org/adopt-a-pet to view available pets and to get started with the adoption process. Contact our team at 262-542-8851 with Caboose was a "foster failure" within minutes. His journey began as a stray found outside in a bush (thank you finder for contacting HAWS!) and ended with being the best friend and companion for our family. He quickly bonded with our oldest son, was patient and always accepting of our youngest son and befriended our dog. Nothing bothered him, nothing! Years later we found out he was deaf, lol! We don't know how old he was, just that he was a senior, but the best senior ever. Thank you for everything Caboose, we will hold you in our hearts and share your memories forever. — Kim K.

MOBILE ADOPTION HIGHLIGHTS

A Safe Play Space

By Katie Gerls, Mobile Adoption Coordinator

HAWS' Mobile team was quick to plan a way to utilize our new Schallock Center for Animals early in 2021, by hosting Saturday indoor play rentals for dogs!

As the owner of a reactive dog, I know how important it is to have a safe outlet for those who don't get the chance to attend typical dog parks. Having a large indoor arena has given the Mobile team an incredible start to utilizing the Schallock Center, hosting events during the colder months in Wisconsin. While the Center won't always be this quiet, we hope to take advantage of the times we can offer similar private experiences.

As we transition from spring to summer, we will look to utilize the Schallock Center to host fundraisers and other events that may have been restricted in the past, due to space or other factors. Stay tuned for more fun opportunities to join us, as we already have some more great ideas to involve our adoptable animals and the community!

FRIENDS OF HAWS NOTES Please contact us at Friends@hawspets.org with any ideas or questions!

The Schallock Center and the Friends

The Friends are supporting the needs of the HAWS Schallock Center for Animals through fundraising efforts, notably by funding the new arena flooring that was needed for events to be held for pets and their people. The vegetable garden at the Center (called The Garden of Eatin') is another way the Friends are giving back to the animals and the community. Produce from the garden is harvested to provide nutritious snacks for the animals both at HAWS' main shelter facility and those out at the Center. The goats benefit often! The produce is also canned to sell at various Friends events throughout the year, or used for our food events.

Upcoming Events

While activities have changed due to COVID-19, the Friends are finding work-arounds to safely host events! (Please note, all events are subject to change; details and updates at hawspets.org.)

Learn more about the Friends at hawspets.org, or attend our meetings on the second Wednesday of each month!
